ORDER FOR ELECTRONIC SERVICE OF NOTICE AND COMMUNICATION

The Texas Department of Family and Protective Services has been named as temporary managing conservator of over 400 children the subject of these cases. The Court finds there are a number of parties and attorneys of record to whom notice of hearings or other court action must be provided. The Court further finds that service of notice and communication through an electronic means will provide reasonable notice to the parties and attorneys at no additional cost, and will assist in the fair and efficient administration of the Court's business.

The Court has previously adopted the Schleicher County Local Rules of the District Court Concerning the Electronic Filing of Court Documents that have been approved by the Supreme Court of Texas Supreme, whereby parties may file documents electronically through TexasOnline under Chapter 2054, Texas Government Code.

IT IS ORDERED in the above styled and numbered cases, each attorney of record shall register with TexasOnline e-filing for receipt of electronic service of notice and communication from the Court and shall, within three (3) working days of receipt, notify the Court of the attorney's TexasOnline User ID that is to be used for the electronic service of notice and communication from the Court.

SIGNED April 29, 2008.
